The applicant must present themselves to the CAA-B for an in-person interview.

Applicant's Signature

Applicants will be required to present themselves in person to the CAA-B, where an electronic signature will be captured for affixing to the licence.

PHASE 3

ISSUANCE OF A CAA-B SERIAL (PEL) NUMBER

Upon the successful completion of the aforementioned requirements, the applicant will be issued a Serial (PEL) number, which is assigned to all licence holders for the duration of their aviation careers.

PHASE 4

CAA-B TESTING

The applicant for conversion will be required to demonstrate knowledge of the Bahamas Civil Aviation Regulations (CARs) by submitting to an Air Law examination, administered by the CAA-B.

You are required to register for the Air Law examination by visiting the CAA-B website at caabahamas.com. Select the "Air Law Examination Learn More" tab at the top of the home page which will direct you to the Examination page and select the Candidate portal link under the Booking and Scheduling Exams heading to register. For any further information or any clarification on testing, please contact testing@caabahamas.com.

PHASE 5

EVALUATION AND APPROVAL PROCESS

All applications are evaluated by CAA-B Technical personnel to ensure that all applicants meet the international standards and regulatory requirements for the issuance of a CAA-B document, and upon satisfactory completion of the evaluation, applications are approved. The evaluation and approval process can take an average of twenty (20) business days; however, this is an estimated time and processing can go beyond this time frame due to extenuating circumstances such as verification of documents by a foreign CAA.
